

MEET GENERAL MANAGER TRINA WHITE

Victoria, BC – A seasoned hotelier with over 20 years of experience, in 2023, Trina White was recognized for her positive impact in hospitality, the community and beyond, named Hotelier of the Year by The BC Hotel Association.

White joined The Parkside Hotel & Spa as opening general manager in 2009. Her leadership style is all about collaboration and team building with a direct focus on sustainability in the workplace. From maintaining a perfect Green Key Global rating of five since 2009 to tracking The Parkside's carbon footprint starting in 2016, White has spearheaded further achievement of green level rankings, receiving the Vancouver Island Green Business Certificate and Ostrom Climate Positive Certification in 2022. These achievements and designations are now a standard for The Parkside Hotel.

With strong attention to community, in 2021, White began steps to reconciliation with the Songhees Nation on behalf of The Parkside Hotel & Spa, the first hotel in Greater Victoria to work towards signing a Memorandum of Reconciliation (MOR), becoming friends with the Songhees. White is also committed to fostering a work environment focused on intercultural competency, providing an inclusive and welcoming space.

Known for her commitment to integrating environmental practices into everyday business, she champions sustainability locally and provincially and was instrumental in co-creating a green committee within the Hotel Association of Greater Victoria in 2018. She currently sits on the Destination Greater Victoria Sustainability Committee, leading sustainable efforts for the destination. As an associate professor at Royal Roads University, she helps shape tomorrow's leaders, teaching the theory of sustainability.

Prior to joining The Parkside Hotel & Spa, White worked at independently owned and operated Brentwood Bay Lodge & Spa, and with such notable Canadian brands as Sandman Hotel Group and Delta Hotels.
